ACADEMIC PHILOSOPHY EXPERIENCES

---

Writing/Logic Tutor

Fall 2020

School of Philosophical, Historical, and Religious Studies, Arizona State University

Served as the resident professional writing tutor, in which I worked one-on-one with SHPRS students on the organization, drafting, and revising of their philosophy papers, as well as assisting current logic students with assignments.

Journalist

Fall 2020

Applied Philosophy Blog, Arizona State University

Participated in an undergraduate research experience under the supervision of Maura Priest to help revitalize and create content for ASU's Applied Philosophy blog. I coordinated, planned, and moderated several debates on various topics in applied philosophy.

Philosophy COMPASS Undergraduate Fellow

Fall 2019

University of Michigan

Selected as one of twelve students from across North America to receive a fully funded opportunity to participate in the COMPASS Workshop at the University of Michigan for aspiring philosophers who come from underrepresented groups in philosophy. Participated in several workshops, seminars, and panels over the course of several days. Topics included utilitarianism, philosophy of mental illness, the ethics of upward mobility, ameliorative metaphysics, and racial slurs.

Led a team of students through a successful $25,000 fundraising campaign, as well as leading a committee of students through the design of a student-led scholarship program for future leaders in the nonprofit sector.

SELECTED NON-ACADEMIC WORK EXPERIENCE

Teacher/Intern

June 2019-August 2020

Mindfulness First

Throughout 2019-2020, I worked with Mindfulness First, a nonprofit devoted to promoting Mindfulness-Based Social and Emotional Learning. I was trained in the organization's curriculum and then taught mindfulness to elementary school children in the Fall of 2019. During a summer internship with the organization, I spearheaded the development of a new six-week curriculum focused on mindfulness as a tool for community engagement.

Actor/Singer/Dancer

August 2012-March 2020

Various theaters and studios

Worked professionally in musical theater for several years nationally and internationally, with professional experience teaching as well. Member of Actors' Equity Association. Most prominent credit—playing a Jet in the International Tour of the musical West Side Story, performing across Europe, Asia, and the Middle east, including Tokyo, Dubai, Hong Kong, Dublin, Prague, and more.
